PROFILE

I am an enthusiastic, self-motivated, and dependable individual with strong organizational skills. As a computer science undergraduate, I am adaptable to new challenges and eager to learn. I excel in both collaborative environments and working independently. With a keen eye for detail, I thrive under pressure and consistently meet deadlines.

PROJECTS

2-D Game

HTML, CSS , JavaScript

- This is a full screen 2D Java game like super mario with some basic creatures and maps. This game is implemented using the Java programming language, using the java graphics librieries.The game was built using vanilla HTML, JavaScript, and CSS, with a focus on simplicity, responsiveness, and engaging gameplay.

Simple Social App

MERN Stack

- A simple social app that prioritizes quality connections over quantity. By providing users with a streamlined interface and meaningful features, we aim to create a platform where individuals can engage in authentic conversations and build meaningful relationships. This app will cater to users who are tired of the noise and superficiality of existing social media platforms.
